and to have

laudable objects

in their favor.

ROCK PRODUCTS

For the first time ever, the world's largest rock products exhibition will be held in Hong Kong. It will be a unique opportunity for exhibitors to showcase their products and services to a global audience.

The exhibition will feature a wide range of products and services related to the rock products industry, including aggregate, cement, concrete, asphalt, and mineral processing equipment.

Exhibitors will have the opportunity to network with industry professionals from around the world, and to learn about the latest developments in the field.

The exhibition will be held at the Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre, and will run for three days.

For more information, please visit the website or contact the organizing committee.
